The Signs of Language
Edward S. Klima
Ursula Bellugi

with Robbin Battison
Penny Boyes-Braem
Susan Fischer
Nancy Frishberg
Harlan Lane
Ella Mae Lentz
Don Newkirk
Elissa Newport
Carlene Canady Pedersen
Patricia Siple

HARVARD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England
Contents

Introduction

I THE TWO FACES OF SIGN

1. Iconicity in Signs and Signing 9
2. Properties of Symbols in a Silent Language 35
3. Historical Change: From Iconic to Arbitrary 67

II THE STRUCTURE OF THE SIGN

4. Remembering without Words: Manual Memory 88
5. Slips of the Hands 125
6. A Comparison of Chinese and American Signs 147
7. A Feature Analysis of Handshapes 164
8. The Rate of Speaking and Signing 181

III GRAMMATICAL PROCESSES

9. On the Creation of New Lexical Items by Compounding 198
10. Linguistic Expression of Category Levels 225
11. Aspectual Modulations on Adjectival Predicates 243
12. The Structured Use of Space and Movement: Morphological Processes 272
IV THE HEIGHTENED USE OF LANGUAGE 317

13. Wit and Plays on Signs 319
14. Poetry and Song in a Language without Sound 340

Appendix A:
Notation 375

Appendix B:
Conventions Employed in Illustrations 378
Notes 379
References 401
Index 409